MRS. G. J. DOHERTY AMONG HEROINES OF WAINWRIGHT FIRE

(From the Edmonton Journal)

Thrilling experiences were heard of when the smoke had cleared from the Wainwright fire on Sunday. Men and women, young girls and youths had all made heroic contributions towards saving the oil capital of northern Alberta.

Mrs. G. J. Doherty, whose husband is the proprietor of the Park Hotel, was one of those who helped towards warding off the death toll. When alarmed by the fire she lost no time in getting upstairs to warn her roomers on the two upper floors. There were some fifty lodgers and, largely due to the prompt action of Mrs. Doherty, every one escaped.

"Some of the men were so sleepy, having worked all day and some part of the night at the oil wells, it was very difficult to awaken them. One man had to be shaken for some time before he realized that the building was on fire and it was time to get out," said Mrs. Doherty.

Clad only in a nightdress and in bare feet, Mrs. Doherty rushed from room to room and soon had the guests scurrying out of the burning building. She heard of the fire at 6.50 and at 7.20 the Park Hotel was in flames, but the roomers were all safe.

After awakening the guests, Mrs. Doherty, then thought of her jewelry and other possessions which she had treasured, including some costly silver. She endeavored to get to her room to salvage them, but found the intense heat too much to bear and had to leave.

Seeing a dress and coat close at hand, she took the rear exit where fire caught in her nightdress, but was extinguished. Then she made for the Wainwright Hotel and gave warning there of the outbreak and danger to the town.

LOCKHART NEWS

Among those who enjoyed an outing at Sylvan Lake on Sunday were Mr. Groven Robson and family, Mr. Herb and Wallace Stephenson, Jim Robson Jr. and Mr. L. Beddoe and family, Mrs. Geo. Cabelka, Mrs. Raymond and children and Mr. Harry Hansen and family of Bentley were also in the party.

Mrs. Robert Jaffray went under a very serious operation at the Lacombe hospital on Monday morning. We are glad to report that she is doing nicely. Mrs. Stevens is looking after Mrs. Jaffray's children.

A record crowd attended the dance put on by the "Red Ace" orchestra on Thursday night. The night was warm, but the music was "peppy" enough to make one forget it and dance anyway. This orchestra has engaged the hall and will be here on August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robson and Mr. and Mrs. Rimbey returned from a motor trip to Montana and Idaho and through the Yellowstone and know. The influence of his clean, manly, cheerful life on the young people will bear fruit in their lives. He has left a record behind him which is seldom attained by those who reach the allotted period of time.

The writer of this sketch, though many years his senior, who enjoyed his friendship and who was warmly attached to him, was always impressed by the splendid possibilities and promise of this young life which ended so soon, but, like his boy, though gone you still live in the lives of the young people, your companions, and will still go on; growing, developing and ripening unto an abundant harvest. May God guide our steps that we too may join with you and that blessed throng, "Never to sigh or weep the bitter tear."

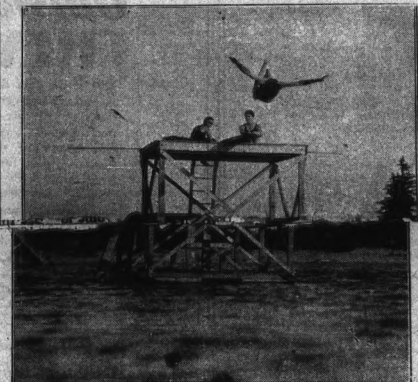

The funeral service at Fairview Church was very largely attended. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. H. Brett, who spoke feelingly of the departed and gave a message of comfort to the sorrowing friends from the words of our Savior, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God, believe also in me." Rev. M. Young, a former and much beloved pastor was present and took part in the service. Rev. Mr. Miller of Blackfalds and Mr. Geo. Grant, of Morningville also took part in the service.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful—a silent but fragrant tribute of loving memories. The pall-bearers were young men, his companions who felt very deeply the loss of their friend. They were: Alfred Ogilvie, Wilbert Stewart, Fred Matson, Daniel Johnson, Angus Briggs and H. Sharpe.

This beautiful family circle is broken; a circle where kindness and love abounded. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing mother, sisters, brothers and grandparents, whom Harry dearly loved. Their loss is our loss; their sorrow is also our hope.

A few short years we'll meet again; When this life's voyage is past; The peaceful haven we will gain, And dwell with you at last.

In compliment to Miss Margery Day, a summer bride-elect, Mrs. T. McCannan, Miss Mary Thomson and Miss Madeline Nelems entertained at the home of Mrs. McCannan, Spadina avenue, on Friday afternoon at a miscellaneous shower. The reception rooms were artistically decorated with pink and white roses to follow a color scheme of pink and white. A beautifully arranged wedding bell was hung from the centre of the table and pink and white streamers were brought to the four corners. The tea-table, which was centred with a three tier pink tulle, was completed by tall pink tapers in rose-bud holders. During the tea hour, Mrs. S. Carson and Mrs. C. Whitaker presided. BENTLEY NEWS

We have been somewhat criticised for a report sent in to the Edmonton Journal a short time ago, being told that our district made a poor showing as compared with other districts in the same report. In defence we will say that this report was sent in before the recent showers which have somewhat improved conditions. We had no thought or wish to give our district a black eye, but felt it better to face the facts squarely and report the best possible with what information we had at hand. We feel that we cannot be accused of boasting when we say that we have one of the best farming districts in the province, and from a farming experience of 28 years here, we can honestly say we have never had a complete crop failure. The fact still remains that the outlook this year is far below the average for this district and if those who criticize will take a look through the fields they will find our report nearer correct than they now think.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson, Fred Nelson, Mrs. Gordon Wyatt and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stephenson motored up to Lamond to be present at the graduating exercises of the Lamont Hospital on Monday, July 8. Miss Mamie Nelson was a member of the graduating class. It will be pleasant news to Miss Mamie's many friends to know that she secured the Gold Medal for general proficiency. She returned with the party and will visit her brothers and sisters here before taking a position.

The Annual meeting of the Shareholders of the Community Hall was held at the Hall on Monday evening, July 14th. The affairs of the Hall were shown to be on a sound financial basis there being a debt of less than $1000.00 which the management expect to have cleared up within the next year. J. H. Suggitt and Harry Heston were re-elected as directors and Mr. Jam. Bonker was elected to take the place of Mr. Percy Wilton, who is retiring. Bentley has one of the best Community Halls in the Province and is a sample of what can be done through co-operation.

GETTING THE FAIR IN SHAPE

There is a trend in store of every one in the district on July 29, 30 and 31, when Lacombe's Big Annual Exhibition will be held. Attractions of very high class have been secured, one of leading western amusement companies having control of the mid-way. There will be merry-go-rounds, Ferris wheel, and ride of other kinds for the kiddies, and plenty of exciting events for the grown-ups. The entries are coming in in good shape, and Secretary Chisholm looks for a record breaker. Get all information from the secretary.

VACATION-TIME! Now, more than ever, have your tires and tubes examined. What if a tire has "blown"? More than likely a good repair job will build that tire up—put new life in it.

We say a good repair job. That means Goodyear Repair Materials and Goodyear Factory Methods. That's the sort of a repair job which will save you money and give you happy, trouble-free mileage for vacation time—and long after.

We have Goodyear's Famous Tube Repair Kits in 3 sizes. Splendid for emergency roadside repairs. Ask to see them.

ERADICATION AND CONTROL OF WEEDS

Editor: The Western Globe.

Dear Sir:

Allow me a space in your valuable paper, to get before the farmers and other interested in destruction of weeds a few facts about the same. I do not know of anyone who has to depend on Mother Nature so much as the farmer. Nature will do wonders and it is up to us all to do our part in assisting nature as much as possible.

Consider the reason that plagues appear in a human body as soon as it is a slight disorder. It is nature that is giving you danger signals, trying to let you know that you must get back to normal and the pain disappears. He who over-looks the danger signals, who thinks of the reason that weeds are appearing in an alarming number on your farm. It is nature again that is throwing out the danger signal, trying to let you know that you are not using the right method in farming.

In other words, you must get the weeds or the weeds will get you. To eradicate weeds effectively, there are certain things we must know. First their habits, second how they spread, third, how to kill them. To make them more easily understood, I will classify them into four classes: Annuals, Winter Annuals, Biannuals and Perennials. The annual weeds germinate in the spring, grow during summer and mature seed all in one season. Then the plant dies. Space will not permit me to name all the noxious weeds, but I will name some of each kind: Wild Oats, Wild Mustard and Pig Weed or Lamb Quarters are the weeds that are giving us the most trouble in the Annual Class. The Winter Annuals germinate in the fall, live through the winter and complete their growth the next summer, then the plant dies. The Biannual Weed, Shepherd's Purse, Hair-Rooted Mustard, Bald Mustard, Blue Burr, Worm Seed Mustard and others. These are Annuals as well as Winter Annuals. Some of the weeds will germinate in the fall, but many of the seeds will not germinate until spring, mostly because they

Change Fair Days

Will be Held Monday and Tuesday Only

At a meeting of the Directors of the Lacombe Agricultural Society held this morning, it was decided to hold this year's fair on Monday and Tuesday, July 29th and 30th, cutting out Wednesday. On Monday all entries should be in place and judging will take place that afternoon and Tuesday morning. There will be a splendid midway which will be in operation Monday evening and Tuesday. On Monday evening there will be baseball and other games. Tuesday will be the big day, and a great programme of sports of all kinds has been arranged. There will also be a good horticultural programme on Tuesday. Our citizens are assured that everything possible is being done to provide worth-while attractions, and those who attend will not be disappointed. Make next Tuesday a real holiday.

The weekly half holiday will be held on Tuesday next.
WATCH FOR HANDBILLS

have not come into close enough contact with the soil, and here's where disking and fall ploughing will do its best work to get the weeds to germinate and if weeds have got on your land there is no other way to get rid of them. The Biannuals are those that require two seasons to complete their growth. Grey and green Tansy Mustard and Burdock are examples. But this class of weeds is giving us very little trouble and if you will go after and eradicate wild cats you will get all the rest of the weeds all three classes. The fourth class, the Perennials, I will not deal with this time, as they were fairly well covered in my last article. I will only name a few of them. The Perennial Sow Thistle and Blue Lettuce have deep rooted underground root stalks, while quack grass and sweet grass have shallow root stalks. The last two named require an entirely different method to eradicate. This has been a good year to get rid of them. It takes a warm and dry season to successfully eradicate these grasses. Some other time I will write a few lines on the best known methods to get rid of them. The time to declare war on weeds is in the fall of the year as soon after harvest as possible. Do not fall plough unless you do so early and your land is clean, because, sooner or later your land will be loaded with weeds, as these weeds will not grow till they are turned up again another year. This is one reason why much of the land is getting as bad as it is. By this method you are continually ploughing one crop of weed seed up and one down, and the more you are ploughing down the more you plough up the next year. And in a very few years your land is so loaded with weed seed, that your cultivated crop has no chance to grow. This is of course worse in a year like this and I have inspected many fields where the weeds have completely taken hold of the land. This is very serious, as it will drive a farmer off his land. As I have said before, there is only one way to get rid of weeds, and that is by using the right method in farming.

are in the land, and after that, sow clean seed. There are several good fanning mills on the market that will clean the seed almost perfect. If the seed is not clean the first time, run it over your mill again. To get the seed to germinate, disc or plough shallow in the fall. If you have not time to work this land down in the fall, get on it as early as possible the next spring, by double harrowing or floating. Leave it as late as possible then give it a good ploughing, seed to barley at once, keep the harrow going until the barley begins to appear, harrow again if necessary after the roots have got hold of the ground. You will do your barley little or no harm if it has been seeded at a fall depth and you will kill millions of weeds. Of course, this should only be done in dry weather. By using this method of farming, there is very little need of summer fallowing, as your land will improve year by year. If you still have land to break up on your farm, you are always sure of a crop on that land for a few years, but most of us have not any more land to break and the sooner we are adopting a system of crop rotation, the better it will be for ourselves. The Lacombe Experimental Farm is doing splendid work in this line. Mr. F. H. Reed, Superintendent, or his assistant Superintendent, I am sure will be glad to talk crop rotation to you any time. They have several methods on crop rotation, and one of them will suit your farm. I do not believe in bare summer fallowing, but if you are going to summer fallow next year, the time to start in the fall by using the same method as if you were going to seed it to barley in the spring. As soon as you have your crop in in the spring, slim plough your summer fallowing again, not more than three or four inches; work it down good. This will start your second crop of weeds. When the weeds have got a good start before harvest, plough your land again six or seven inches; work down again, the same as before the last thing in the fall, give it good cultivation and this will kill the later winter annuals and your land should be fairly clean for the next spring. If this method had been used on last year's summer fallowing, you would have had a good crop this year, but the trouble would be in the summer when there is plenty of rain. Your crop would grow too rank and go down in the fall and it would be very hard to get with a binder. But this is the only successful way to clear the land of weeds by summer fallowing. I have a suggestion: Divide your land into four or five equal parts, seed one part down to grass, pasture or cut hay one or two times; haul out as much manure as possible on this land you can haul almost any time of the year. This land when it has been in grass on pasture for two years should be ploughed up the last of July or first of August. All your weeds that were on top have been destroyed. Plough this land at a fair depth, work the same as new breaking and it will be just as good as when it was first broken up and the weeds are going to give you very little trouble. In the mean time you must have another part of your farm seeded down. In this way your work will be divided almost equally all summer, and you will make the grain on the farm that you did before. You will have your hay and pasture besides; this is very easy to prove. If you are going to raise wheat, this is the place to seed it, as it will improve the grade and quality of same. If you employ a method of this kind, you will solve your wheat problem and your land will never give out. The weeds have different ways of spreading on your farm, first by cattle and horses, and second by wind and water. After that date the weeds were

Arrangements for our annual fair,
to be held next Monday, Tuesday
and Wednesday, are now completed,
and the officials of the Association promise the people of the town and district the best three days of en-

Entries are now coming in fast in every class, and a larger exhibit of district products than ever before shown is assured. There will be high class grandstand and mid-way attractions, one of the largest aggregations in the west having secured the concessions. There will be a merry-go-round, chair-a-plane and other rides for the children, while the adults will find plenty of action in the mid-way. There will be baseball, horseshoe games, football, horse races
and a large dancing platform,
where a first class orchestra has been secured for the occasion. The officers are determined to give the people a good show, and all citizens are requested to help.

Wednesday, July 17, at Gull Lake, McLaurin Beach. Every cottage is rented and registrations continue to come in. The chairman of the com-

The business manager, T. Underwood,

FINISHING EVENTS AT GULL LAKE
GULL LAKE ON FRIDAY
Stanford Espendale and His School
Boy Tumblers

The story of this unique group is an extremely interesting one. Several years ago, Mr. Espendale found himself in a small country school with no method of adequately providing for the athletic needs of his 45 students.
Somehow, slight of build himself, and
having had absolutely no experience
in teaching athletics, he had given

many little "thoughts" to the boys of the in which he now specializes. While every single student is a more or less accomplished athlete, Mr. Espendale is bringing to Gull Lake 5 boys who are outstanding. Among the five is a Chinese youngster of 15, whose accomplishments are said to be unusually clever.

People living at Gull Lake should make it a point to see these powerful acrobats as they are well trained and their acts are exceptionally interesting.
